NOVAtime 4000 Workforce Management solution has been awarded the Microsoft Logo Certification for Windows Server 2008 R2 Program

DIAMOND BAR, CALIF. (PRWEB) February 14, 2012 -- NOVAtime Technology, Inc. (http://www.novatime.com), a leading provider of Workforce Management solutions for enterprise organizations, announced today that NOVAtime 4000has been awarded the Microsoft Logo Certification for Windows Server 2008 R2 Program. This certification confirms complete compatibility with Server 2008 R2 for this powerful, robust, industry leading application.

Certification for Windows 2008 R2 requires rigorous independent testing by an authorized Microsoft certified test facility and covers a variety of areas, including security, reliability and high availability, installation/removal, startup, shutdown, error conditions and normal operations. NOVAtime's flagship Workforce Management system, NOVAtime 4000, provides companies and government agencies with the ability to manage employees' time and attendance with accuracy; calculate job and labor data to control expenses, and prepare timely payrolls with exceptional reliability.

Calvin Lo, Director of Information Technology, states, "The NOVAtime 4000 hosted solution has been using servers running on Windows Server 2008 R2 since 2009. Through our continuous improvement process we have increased the reliability and flexibility of our server infrastructure, while taking advantage of the 64-bit computer architecture. We are happy to say NOVAtime's SaaS solutions are among the first to take the 64-bit advantage in the time and attendance/workforce management industry. In fact, NOVAtime achieved the FrontRunner status for Microsoft Windows 7 and Windows Server 2008 R2 in October 2009."

"Adding compatibility for the latest Microsoft platforms helps NOVAtime stay ahead of the competition and give our customers access to current and emerging technologies. Getting certified is no small exercise and affirms our commitment to customers that our technology is always evolving to provide the highest levels of functionality and 3rd party compatibility," says Brian Harris, Vice President of Client Services.

Focused in building the leading the time and attendance/workforce management solutions, NOVAtime offers the NOVAtime 4000 SaaS, a hosted software-as-a-service (SaaS) with multi-tiered, multi-tenant infrastructure, a licensed on-premise solution for companies with up to 1000 employees (NOVAtime 4000 STARbox), and a licensed on-premise solution for companies with over 1000 employees (NOVAtime 4000 STAR).
